

All Saints' weekly email - All Saints Festival

As we approach this year's Festival I look forward to hearing some other voices than my own.

Technology permitting, Fr Martin Browne OSB, of Glenstal Abbey in Ireland will be visible and audible to those participating online and audible to us in church for All Saints Day Sung Mass.

We look forward to welcoming two former Assistant Priests to preach for All Saints Day Evensong and Benediction at 3pm on Sunday - Fr Peter McGeary and All Souls Sung Requiem on Monday 2nd November at 6pm - Fr John Pritchard.

Please note the time of the All Souls Requiem: 6pm (the time published in the November Parish Paper is incorrect)

In current circumstances it has not been feasible to mount our usual Festival Appeal. But there will be a retiring collection in support of the parish at the end of all Festival services, to which those joining us online are also invited to contribute.

Our Parish Sung Requiem for Fr Gerald Reddington will be offered at 12 Noon tomorrow, All Saints Eve at which Fr McGeary will preach a short homily. It is appropriate to be offering this Mass for such a devoted friend of the parish on the Eve of our Feast of Title. As indicated last week there will be a larger Memorial Requiem for Fr Reddington next year, when more people will be able to attend.

I look forward to sharing these acts of worship with you as we give thanks for our fellowship in prayer and worship with the whole company of heaven and for God's many blessings to our parish in this challenging year.

Fr Michael
